PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

TΠESE Volumes contain all the information I have been able to collect concerning the British Enactments in force in the Native States in India.

- 2. The term "British Enactments," as used in these volumes, includes—
  - the Enactments made by the British Legislature in exercise of the general jurisdiction which it possesses over its subjects and servants in all Native States, and
  - (II) the Enactments made by or under the authority of the British Indian Executive Government in exeroise of the special jurisdiction which it has acquired, usually over all persons, in certain Native States or places therein.
- 3. The distinction between these two classes of Enactments has been observed in classifying the British Enactments in force in the Native States dealt with in these volumes, the Enactments in force in each local area having been placed under separate heads according as they belong to one or other of these classes. Enactments which purport to be solely made under the authority of the Legislature, or which appear to be limited to the classes of persons with which the Legislature can deal, have been arranged under one head and styled "British-Indian Enactments"; whilst Enactments which purport to be made, in whole or in part, under the special authority of the Executive Government above described, or which do not appear to be limited to the classes of persons with which the Legislature can deal, have been arranged under a different head, having as its title the name of the particular place for which the Enactments have been made with the word "British" prefixed. Broadly speaking, the "British-Indian Enactments" are personal laws applicable only to British subjects or servants, whilst the other Enactments are territorial laws applicable to all persons in the particular places to which they respectively refer.

<sup>11</sup>c., the territories of any Native Prince or Chief under the succession of Her Majesty extends through the Governor General of Inda, or through any Governor or other ember subordinate to the Governor-General of Inda—ec 52 and 53 Vict., cap 63, s. 15 (5)

- 4. The miner classification under each of these heads is identical, the Enactments being arranged, as far as possible, in separate lists, as they are of the nature of—
  - Principal Enactments, that is, Enactments made under the immediate authority of the Legislature or the Exceptive Government, consisting of—

A .- Enactments of the Legislature-

- (a) Statutes,
- (b) Acts of the Governor-General in Council;

B .- Enactments of the Executive Government-

- (a) Enactments of the British-Indian Legislatures applied,
- (b) Special Laws; or
- (2) Subordinate Enactments, that is, Enactments (Rules and Orders) made under authority conferred in this behalf by Principal Enactments.
- 5. "Special Laws" are new laws made by the Executive Government for places in which it has acquired special jurisdiction, while "Enactments of the British-Indian Legislatures

&#x27;Strictly speaking, all the Eugetments of the Legislatures established in this country are Subordinate Enactments, manuach as the Indian Legislatures derive their authority solely from Parliamentary Enactments; but for the purposes of these Lists, Acts of the Governor-General in Council are classified as on the same footing with Statutes applied" are, as their title indicates, existing British-Indian Enactments which have, by order of the Executive Government, been adopted, usually with certain modifications, as laws in such places. Though there is no material distinction between these two kinds of Enactments, it has been found convenient to arrange them in separate groups in these volumes.

- 6. A general classification of the British Enactments which may be made for the Native States in India, and a detailed classification of the various British Enactments actually in force in the Native States dealt with in each volume, which have been prepared in accordance with the above remarks, will be found in Statements Nos. I and II, prefixed to these volumes (pages xi and xii).
- 7. The Enactments which the various Native States may have made for their respective territories are beyond the scope of this work.
- 8. For the convenience of local officers, each volume contains (see Part I) the British Enactments in force generally in all Native States in India, as well as the Enactments in force locally in the particular Native States with which it deals.
- 9. Numerous references to Aitebison's Treaties have been inserted, which will, it is hoped, add to the usefulness of these Lists. The revised edition of 1876 is the one referred to.
- 10. A short alphabetical index of names of places has been appended for convenience of reference.
  - 11. In compiling the volumes-
    - (a) Rules and Orders of a temporary nature or conferring powers on persons by name have, as a rule, been omitted; and
    - (b) Special Laws and Subordinate Enactments, which are not to be found in the Codes published by the Legislative Department, have, as a rule, been set out in extenso.
- 12. Mr. G. R. Ridge of the Legislative Department Office has assisted me in the preparation of these Lists, and Mr. F. G.

Wigley, the Officiating Under Secretary, has kindly undertaken to supervise the passing of the final proof through the Press and the insertion of such Enactments as may be issued after this date.

13. Lastly, it must be stated that these volumes are not authoritative, and that the Government of India is in no way responsible for their contents. They have been compiled by me from the Official Gazettes, supplemented by local information obtained through the Foreign Department. Though I have made them as complete and accurate as was possible, having regard to the materials at my disposal and the limited time which I have been at liberty to devote to the work, I am fully conscious of their many defects. At the same time I hope that notwithstanding their imperfections, the volumes will be found to be of some practical value to Political Officers and others desirous of obtaining information concerning the British Enaotments in force in the Native States in India.

J. M. MACPHERSON.

SINLA; The 27th October 1890.

In his recent valuable work, "The Protected Native States of India," Mr. Lec-Warner states (see page 366), that if the reador "refers to the official Gazettes of the Indian Government he will find many scores of pages devoted annually to the judicial notifications published by the political offices of the Empire. The law relating to the Native States fills thousands of pages." The object of the work now being brought to completion has been to save the labour and trouble involved in referring to the official Gazettes for these 'Notifications by supplying information in a classified form as to their confents. Though the work only professes to contain lists of the Notifications in question, it will be found on examination that, except in the case of the two first volumes, which do not, as a rule, reproduce the subordinate Enactments, the whole of each Notification referred to in these volumes is set out in extense either in the last column of the Lists or in the appendices, so that a reference to the Gazettes, even for the purpose of ascortaining the exact words of a Notification, has been rendered unnecessary. Indeed, if used in conjunction with the "Codes" published by the Legislative Department, which contain the Statutes, Acts, and Regulations mentioned in the Lists, these volumes ought to form a fairly complete handbook to the British Enactments now in force in the Native States of India.

The subject of the relatious between the British Government and the Native States of India has of late heen brought before the public not only in Mr. Lec-Warner's work above mentioned. but also in Mr. Tupper's no less valuable work, "Our Indian Protectorate." In both these volumes these relations have been treated of chiefly from a politice-historical point of view. earlier werk, entitled "A Collection of Treatics, Engagements, and Sanads relating to India and neighbouring countries." ef which a revised edition has recently been published, Sir Charles Aitchison dealt very fully and comprehensively with the same subject, mainly from the standpoint of our contractual relations towards these States. In these and the previous volumes of this work an attempt has been made to approach this subject from what may be described as its legal or jurisdictional aspect, the object being to show the extent to which British-made law applies to these Native States, and, though these volumes are practically little mere than compilations of information which is available to any one who chooses to study the Gazettes, they will perhaps help to throw light on what has hitherto been a somewhat confusing branch of the subject.

J. M. MACPHERSON.

Sinle; The 1st January 1895.

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION.

In preparing for publication the second edition of this work one important alteration has been introduced which, it is hoped, will render it more useful for purposes of reference. In the first edition the Enactments were merely summarized and included in the lists, with the exception of certain special ones, which were reproduced in extense in Appendices: in the present edition, however, all Enactments which have been issued by the Government of India have been reproduced in extense, except in so far as they are to be found in the volumes of General Acts of the Governor-General in Council, or in one of the Provincial Codes. In such cases full references are given: and the chronological lists which formed the basis of the first edition are only retained in a simplified form to serve the purposes of a table or index. In its present form it is hoped that the work may be regarded as a not inadequate supplement to the General Acts of the Governor-General in Council and the Provincial Codes.

2. A general nominal index has been added at the end of the sixth Volume (the Western Indian Volume) for facility of reference.

3. Mr. Maepherson, the Secretary to the Government of India in the Legislative Department, who compiled the first edition, has kindly permitted me to consult him in matters regarding the general scheme of the work, and I have to express my obligations to him for his advice. I have also had the assistance of Mr. Ridgo of the Legislative Department Office, who has been most useful in helping to prepare the volumes for Press.

PREFACE TO THE THIRD EDITION.

N this, the third, edition of "British Euactmonts in force in Native States," the system of arrangement has been altered from that adopted by Mr. (now Sir John) Maepherson in the first States in relation with the Government of India, with the Administered Areas situated in them, have been grouped (Volumes I-III) apart from those in relation with Local Governments (Volume IV), while one Volume (V) is devoted to Railways wherever situated. Again orders under Acts applied and under Local Laws have been separated from the rest of the enactments. and form Volumes II and III in the case of the first group of States, and Part II of Volume IV in the case of the second group. and Part II of Volume V in the easo of railways. Lastly, for convenience of reference, orders relating to Courts have been entered under a separate sub-head in each chapter in Volumes I. IV. Part I, and V. Part I. In the Appendices have been collected all orders to which there are constant references in the body of the work, or which it is convenient to group together for purnoses of comparison, such as orders relating to the appointment of Justices of the Peace, of Marriage Registrars, and of Registrars of Births and Deaths.

Each Volume states the law as in force on the 19th April 1913.

If such an application be filed, it must hear the requisite stamps for the fee in addition to such stamps, if any, as are needed for its own validity.

Rule IV.—When a Court sends a process for service or execution to any Court beyond its jurisdiction, it shall endorso on the process a certificate that the fee chargeable under Rule I has been levied, and the process so endorsed will be served or executed free of further charge by the Court to which it is sent.

Note.—The public should be warned by notice posted in some conspicuous place in every Court that, although no limit of time is prescribed for applications for the refund of fees paid under Rule 1, yet as such applications can be granted only on view of the stamps originally filed, which are liable to be destroyed under the rules for the destruction of civil records, there is a probability, in case delay be allowed to occur, that it may become impossible to obtain a refund.

portions boiled either at the hospital or sub-divisional depôt after use. This is necessary, as the same dooly may be used for carrying suspected cases to the "observation ward. All the above articles should be kept in a room or yard near the contro of his sub-division or at the office of the 1 Cantonment Magistrate Officer Commanding the Station ].

24. On a report being received by a Superintendent of a ward of the occurrence of a case of plagne, he shall at once proceed to the house. If the case appears an undoubted case of plague, he may order the immediate removal of the patient to the plague hospital. If he considers the case to he of a suspicious nature, he shall nt once send for the medical officer or assistant, and may then order the removal of the patient either to a plague hespital or plague observation ward, according to the opinion formed of the case. The other inmates of the house, with their movable property, may be taken to the segregation, camp in charge of one or more policemen or other responsible persons: provided that my member of the family who wishes shall be permitted to accompany the patient to the plague hospital or observation camp; provided also that when a person suffering from plague is in such a state that the officer who sees him considers that death is imminent shall not insist on the removal of the patient to hospital except at the express wish of his relatives or friends.

NOTE .- I'ade notes A and B to rule 16

25. Such persons will be supplied with passes by the Superintendent of the ward admitting them into hospital and camp These passes after countersignature by the medical officer or the officer at the camp will be returned through the policemen to the Superintendent.

28. The inhabitants of an evacuated house should be allowed to remove sufficient grain for their personal consumption after it has been exposed to the sunlight so as to remove all danger of infection. If in any case it is desired to remove grain for sale from an infected area, it must first be spread out under the direction of the Superintendent, and exposed to air and sunlight for 48 hours. In neither case must the bags or sacks be removed until they have been hoiled or disinfected and sun-dried.

27. After evacuation of the house, the walls and floors of all rooms with their contents, except articles of food, which it is not intended to destroy, and of all enclosures, should be disinfected in the manuer indicated in Annexuro I. All rags and refuse found in the house or enclosure should be hurned in the presence of the Superintondent or Supervisor, as the case may be.

Note.—It is often prudent to disinfect not only one house in which a case of sickness has occurred or dead rate have been found, but those in the immediate neighbourhood as well, Where the Superintendent thinks each disinfection advisable, it should be carried out under his orders.

- 2S. After a house has been disinfected the door shall be secured by a padlock, of which the Superintendent shall retain the key, or entrance may be barred by any other effectual method.
- 29. When disinfection hy chemical agency cannot be carried out effectively, the roof, if not a pucka one, should be removed, and holes should be made in the walls to admit freely air and light to the smaller rooms and enclosures. On the completion of these operations the door shall be secured with a padlock, or entrance harred by nny other effectual means. The burning down of houses should be resorted to only in the case of temporary structures which are of little or no value, or in the case of honses which are unfit for human habitation.
- 30. The coolies engaged in the work of disinfection, etc., should be provided with hoots or shoes to protect their feet from the danger of infection through abraded surfaces.
- 51. Experience has nhandantly proved that the evacuation of an infected house is seldom in itself sufficient to stamp out the disease. When plague manifests itself in one house in an indigenous form, there in the neighbourhood have, as a rule, already become infected, and it usually follows that cases subsequently appear in them. It is therefore always a wise and prudent course on the occurrence of an indigenous case, not only to evacuate the one house, but also all those in the immediate neighbourhood. The clothing of the immates of an infected house should be disinfected by boiling.
- 32. It may be necessary owing to the occurrence of several cases in one area to vacate a group of houses or a whole sub-division and to segregate the inhabitants, and, if necessary, a cordon of police or troops may be employed for the purpose. The whole or any portion of the population vacating may be removed to the segregation camp, but ordinarily inhabitants of non-infected houses should be allowed the option of going where they please. Disinfection and unroofing of the houser should then be carried out in day course.

NOTE—It must, however, be understood that the success of such a measure as exacuttion most largely depend on the willingness of the people, the season of the year, the situation of the town, the facilities for providing camp arcommodation, and the strength of the ara lattered and it should not ordinarily be resurted to save in the case of small detached in defundance.

- 33. On the evacuation of the houses in the infected area, all the inhabitauts of the non-infected portion of the town should be encouraged to leave the town, and any obstacle which may tend to delay their departure should, if possible, be removed.
- 34. If the disease shall have become of general prevalence in the [Secunderabad Cantonment], every quarter heing affected, and if the arrangements for dealing with the epidemic are incomplete and defective, effectual measures must be taken to regulate the departure of the population and prevent them carrying infection to healthy areas without, however, employing cordons. Every effort should in the meantime be made to provide sufficient accommodation in huts for a large proportion of the population.

35. A person dealt with under the foregoing rules shall comply with any directions that may be given to him by the Medical Officer with regard to his removal to, and his detention and treatment in, an observation shed, temporarv hospital, or place of segregation, and with respect to the disinfecting or burning of his clothing and personal effects, the disposal of any corpse, or with respect to any other similar matter: he shall not depart from any such place of defention without the permission of the Medical Officer.

36. In the event of a death occurring from bubonic plague, the Mcdical Officer shall arrange for the disposal of the hody in accordance with tho religious practices of the deceased and the instructions in Annexure I. In the case of a European or Muhammadan, the body shall be buried at least six feet deep; the place of hurial, if not an authorised cemetery, should he well away from habitations and sources of water-supply. In the case of a Hindu, the body shall be completely and thoroughly burned in an isolated locality in the presence of a responsible official.

37. The 2 [Cantonment Magiatrate of Station ] shall provide suitable conveyances for the free carriage of persons suffering, or suspected to be suffering, from the plague, and it shall be lawful to drive or carry such ocnveyances through any public or private thoroughfare.

38. Any conveyance, public or private, used for the carriago of a person infected with plague, or suspected of being infected, shall be thoroughly disinfected and exposed to air and sunlight for seven days previous to being again brought into general use.

SECTION VI .- MISCELLANEOUS.

Inoculation.

56. On the occarrence of an outbreak of plague the <sup>2</sup>[Principal Medical Officer, Sargeon | Should at once place himself in communication with M. 57. No person shall be inoculated without his own express consent

58. Every person who holds a certificate that he has been inoculated by M. Haffkine's process, and provided that such certificate is less than six months old, shall be entitled to the following privileges:—

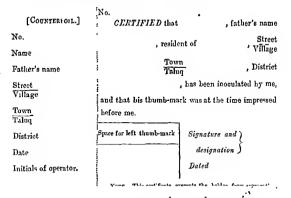

(a) He shall not be liable to detention at any railway or road observation camp when travelling except for such period as may be

- required to disinfect his baggage and clothes, if those are considered suspicious.
- (b) He shall not be liable to take aut passports and present himself daily for observation for ten days after arrival from a plague infected place.
- (c) An inoculated person who has been living in an infected house or has otherwise been exposed to plague infection shall not be liable to be segregated, but may be required to evacuate the infected house and to have his clothes and personal effects disinfected. When, however, all the occupants of a house have heen inoculated, neither the patients nor the other inmates of the house shall be required to be segregated, provided arrangements are made to the satisfaction of a Plague authority for the disinfection of the house and its contents, and for the prevention of the spread of plague to the neighbouring dwellings.

The inoculation certificate shall he in the following form:-

occupants of the house have been moculated, or to have his clothes disinfected when travelling. The certificate is valid for a period of six mouths of the house. The disinfectant should be thoroughly applied to the floor of the rooms and all the corners and recesses and places which might have served for the reception of infected clothing, and so much of the walls within reach of the disinfectors should also be disinfected.

9. The most efficacious chemical disinfectant is solution of perchloride of mercury, and if prepared in the following proportion will give a suitable and concentrated solution, which can be diluted and quantity increased when required to be used:—

Perchloride of me	-	•	•	•		•			21
Chloride of ammo		٠.	•	•					15
Hydrochloric acid		•	•						100
Aniline blue ,									1
Vater			•	•					340
							$T_{\sigma}$	tal	477

For actual use 3½ ounces of the above solution is diluted in 1 gallon of water, which gives a solution containing perchloride of mercury in proportion of about 1 to 1,000.

- 10. The disinfectant should only be made up by the Medical Officer, Special Plague Officer, Assistant Surgeon, or a Hospital Assistant in a concentrated form as given in the previous paragraph, and careful instructions given as to the amount of water to be added. The capacity of vessel used for measuring out the perchloride of mercury solution should be accurately adjusted to that of the wooden buckets in which that solution is diluted for use. The disinfectant should be poured over the floor, and the walls vigorously brushed down with it. Before commencing disinfection all the furniture and household effects should be cleared out and put in the open. When the room has been dealt with, the effects are to be taken in hand. As soon as disinfection has been completed, the household effects ought to be replaced; and as soon as the rooms are dry, the inhabitants ought to be allowed to return. Only wooden vessels should be used for disinfecting solution on account of the acid contained in it.
- 1). In cases where it is not possible to carry out chemical disinfection, the disinfecting agency of desiccation should be relied on. For this purpose the house should be thoroughly cleared of towdung and moist accumulation, and left empty for two months. If, however, it is near the rains, and to burry on disinfection by desiccation, it may be necessary to remove the roof to let in air and sunlight freely.

12. In disinfecting household and personal effects, the feelings of the people in carrying it out should be consulted. All destructive methods of disinfection are proscribed, and nothing which could by any possibility bave any value for its owner should be broken up or destroyed by fire.

13. The best way to disinfect infected objects is to keep a cauldron of water at the boiling point, and to immerse in it for a moment the various infected objects. As an alternative to the momentary immersion in holling water, the infected clothing might be steeped in disinfecting solution; but this solution should be neutral, for, if it is acid, the article will be damaged. This neutral solution of perchloride of mercury can be prepared in the same manner as the acid solution mentioned in paragraph 9, with the exception of leaving out the hydrochloric acid and the disinfection to be carried out by similar agency as mentioned in paragraph 6.

14. It is no use carrying infected articles and clothing to a distance to a steam steriliser, but the disinfection should be earried out on the spot.

15. Dealing with fabries, such as silk, etc, which would be injured by immersion into hoiling water, these should be exposed to the rays of the sun for several days.

16. Infected grain and such articles which cannot be disinfected by disinfecting solution or hoiling should be disinfected by desiceation, and should be spread out to thin layers and exposed to the rays of the sun.

17. Disinfection of the persons of travellers is not necessary, and should be shandoned.

18. Disinfection of drains and cess-pits is not necessary, and should be abandoned; but it is advisable to continue the disinfection of latrines.

ANNEXURE II.

Instructions for establishing Plague Camps.

The following are the standard plans of a plague hospital of 25 and 50 beds respectively:—

1. The lineal dimensions of the isolation but should be adhered to whatever the shape, elevation, and nature of the structure may be.

 A regularly constructed but is recommended with the roof well raised on the side supports, which should be 5 to 6 feet in height, allowing 11 feet open space between the side mat walls for ventilating purposes.

- The floor should be raised and formed of rammed earth at least 1 foot in depth to permit of its being readily scraped, disinfected with quicklime, relaid or completely removed.
- 4. The huts admit of a front and rear screen wall being affixed, so that each hut may be adapted for cottage or zenana purposes.
- 5. The arrangement of the buts can be varied according to site available in echelon, in single, double, or treble lines if necessary; but when more than a single line is required, it is advisable to adopt the echelon arrangement.
- 6. The central street should not be less than 60 feet in width, the distance between lines not less than 40 feet, and from hut to but not less than 8 feet.
- 7. The arrangement and dimensions of the huts reuder them easily adaptable for suspect, segregation, and zenana purposes, as zenana ecreen mate can be readily put up, 10 lineal feet being reserved in front and rear respectively for the purpose, and one, or several, or many, huts may be screened off as required.
- 8. Each hut is intended for one plague patient, but under pressure could accommodate two plague patients. The necessity for isolating cach plague patient is abundantly evident, and the crowding of cases tends to accontuate conditions facilitating the spread of the infection and involves danger to attendants.
- 9. If the huts are intended for "suspects," two "suspects" could be safely accommodated in each hut; and, if intended for simple segregation purposes, there is sufficient accommodation for four persons. Each hut may, as stated, be formed into a zenana.
- 19. In a general segregation camp the huts may be of cheap construction, and a leanto structure may suffice; but the arrangement of the huts should as far as practicable be as directed in regular line, in parallelogram or echelon, with not less than the minimum distances between the lines and huts.
- 11. All huts should have mat ecreen walls, which can be readily washed with quicklime while the floors are being disinfected, or rolaid with the same material.
- 12. It may not be necessary to establish or equip a plague hospital except on the smallest scale of two or three beds, but Plague Committees and Staff Surgeons should select eligible sites, and be prepared at a moment's notice to form segregation camps and establish or extend a plague hospital, so that the luts already, or about to be, erected may fit in with the proposed scale and lans.

- 13. The hospital and observation wards should be surrounded with a fanca
- 14. Care should be taken to ensure a good and plentiful supply of water to different camps. If the water-supply to the town is conveyed through nines, connections should, if practicable, he carried into the camps. Bathing platforms at some distance apart for the two sexes should be constructed and provided with surface drains for the removal of surplus water.
- 15. Separate latrines for the sexes should be erected in connection with the two camps and bosnital, and they should be well lighted with ordinary post lamps.

16. Bunniabs' shops with all sumplies should be provided for each of the camps.

Care must he taken that the carriages are locked hefore the arrival of the train at the inspection station, and that no passenger is permitted to leave his carriage until the arrangements for such examination are complete.
- 9. Railway Administrations are required to instruct their staff to give every assistance to the medical and police officers conducting the inspection in order to minimise the detention of the trains, and to detain the trains until the medical inspection is over. Railway ticket-collectors may be allowed to accompany the plague inspecting officers, if this course is found to economize time.
- 10. It is the duty of railway authorities, assisted by the platform police, to see that passengers alighting at a railway station do not leave the premises except by the proper exit, and to afford every facility for the working of the plague regulations. Ticket-collectors should be required to stop all passengers holding tickets issued at infected or notified stations until their names and addresses have been taken down, and passports issued to them by the plague official appointed for the purpose
- 11. The inspecting officers should not only thoroughly examine passengers and passenger vehicles, but should also inspect the guards and Post Office vans, so that no person may escape inspection No distinct should be made between railway employes and others, and before any train, whether carrying passengers or goods, leaves the inspection station, a

Persons coming under class (a) shall be detained until they are cured or as long as the infection or suspicion of plague remains. Information of such cases shall be sent urgently to the Plague Commissioner. All contacts shall also be detained for a period of ten days from the occurrence of the last case of plague among them.

his destination, his ticket should nevertheless be punched, or if the station has not been supplied with a plague punch, the right hand lower corner of the ticket should he clipped with scissors. If a passenger coming from a plague-infected area alights at any station, he should be brought under the passport rules.
